Any nice gore-tex shell or coat that I comes across is neon and has NO arm zippers or velcro space. Hoping someone can point me in the right direction.

Depends on your budget. A lot of us here disparaged North Face and Columbia because they went woke, but they have solid value. There is Canada Goose, which is made in Canada and is a great coat in the style that you are describing. The downside to Canada Goose is that thugs like to steal them off people. You could also try Carhartt.
